THE LATE AFFAIR IN CULPEPER. [From the Richmond Dispatch.] STEVENSBURG, CULPEPER Co., July 15, 1867.

I am pained to record a most serious affair between two prominent citizens of this place, resulting, as we fear it will, in the death of one of the parties. On last Sabbath morning, while preparing to attend church, Mr. Martin Brown visited his stable for the purpose of saddling his horse, when he was attacked by Mr. Robt. Grayson, shot three times, and dangerously, perhaps mortally, wounded.

On the Wednesday preceding Mr. Grayson left home, stating that he intended to visit Charlottesville. On Saturday evening Mr. Brown, while grazing his horse near Mr. Grayson's bouse, saw and conversed with Mrs. Grayson, which conversation, it is stated, was overheard by her husband, and was the cause of the lamentable affair. Mrs. G. disclaims anything criminal having been said by either

Soon after sunrise on Sunday morning, Mr. Grayson secreted himself near Mr. Brown's stable, and as Brown approached fired on him with a double-barrel shot gun, wounding him in the left side. Mr. Brown who was stooping to pick up the stable key which he had dropped, was completely bewildered by the surprise, and before he recovered his presence of mind received a second shot. Brown being unarmed, turned to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight, when Granger the recovered to seek sofaty in flight. turned to seek safety in flight, when Grayson | the price of that article. fired a third shot with a pistol, which took effect in the back. Grayson then advanced upon him, but seeing several gentlemen coming to Brown's rescue, turned and ran home, locked up his gun in the barn, and informed hs wife of his act, and, mounting his horse, rode to Culpeper Court House and surrendered himself to the civil authorities.

The physicians who were called in to attend Mr. Brown have but slight hopes of his recovery. Three buckshot still remain in his abdomen, and four in his left side and breast, while the pistol ball in his back cannot be traced.

The affair excites much regret, as both gentlemen were well known in the community in which they live.

GERRIT SMITH AND THE DOCTRINE OF TREA-SON .- Gerrit Smith has issued a circular in which he takes issue with Chief Justice Chase, of the Supreme Court, upon questions of constitutional law. He denies that the late war was prosecuted under authority of the Constitution of the United States, but claims, on the contrary, that it was carried on by Congress in accordance with the laws of war, and that the vanquished party is not in any sense legally chargeable with treason. Mr. Smith regards the selection of leaders for punishment under the charge of treason as "better suited under the charge of treason as "better suited to feudal times than to our own, and to a despot-ruled country than to our own." He expense in manufacturing. The process is very says, while pleading for a more lenient treatment of the South as the surest road to peace: "How sad it is that our country, which claims to be the most liberal and advanced of all countries-the very Pharos of the world-is not yet humane enough to feel that the conquered party in a civil war has suffered enough! How disheartening to the Republicans of Europe is the prospect that, when they shall, now and then, be worsted in their endeavors to overthrow despots, those despots will be able to quote the authority of enlightened and bilities of traitors! "Had our revolutionary fathers failed, and Washington and Franklin been hung for treason at the close of the civil war, this opinion of the Chief Justice would cover and justify the heart-rending and heaven-appalling deed." The author of the circular bases his argu-

liberal America to justify themselves in holding the conquered republicans to the responsi-

ment not only on the plea of justice, but he fears that a persistence in the rigorous policy marked out by Chief Justice Chase will entail the dissolution of the Republican party. He

"Our type of civilization is, indeed, still sadly low. It is, nevertheless, not so low as to leave it possible for a party to prosper, whose policy shall be looked upon to be the policy of cruel-

He gives a very satisfactory answer to a question of the Chief Justice in the following words: "The Chief Justice asks: 'On what sound principle then can we say judicially that the levying of war ceases to be treason when the Try it. war becomes formidable? I answer that when, in any instance, it becomes so formidable as to induce Congress to take it out of the jurisdiction of his court and to bring it under the law of war, he is then bound to 'say judicially' that this is an instance of levying war which is not treason, and with which his court has therefore nothing to do.

"One reason why we should not call men | FISH! FISH!! We can give only one more extract: traitors who are not legally and justly chargeable with treason, is that the traitor is looked upon as seeking personal and selfish ends, and as therefore worthy of our deep abhorence. Stonewall Jackson, killing men to serve personal ends, and active in a rebellious movement condenned of the people, would have been an abhorred and detested man. But Stonewall Jackson, 'arm and soul' in a public causeliving, battling, dying for millions-is, even in our eyes, who regard that cause as a bad one, a sublime being.' The Lancaster, Pa., Intelligencer says that a short hand reporter named Cochran was stationed by a certain Colonel O. J. Dickey of that place behind the folding doors of the room in which the recent conversation betwen Mr. Stevens and a reporter of the New York Herald took place. Cochran took phonographic notes of the entire conversation and now has them in his possession. [If this is so, it exhibits a degree of meanness, depravity and impudence, rarely equaled. This stationing a reporter "behind a door" to write down a private conversation brought on by another reporter, beats all!]

Ground Bones. Whitelock's Cerealizer. The high reputation

borne by this article as the most effective and reliable crop producer made in the United States, induces me to ask the farmer to test it alongside of any manure he may apply.
Woolston's Amoniated Bone Phosphate. This article is manufactured by the same house, and contains all the best qualities of Peruvian Guano WM. H. IR WIN, and Ground Bones No. 5, south Union street. mh 28-tf GUANO. - REED'S AMMONIATED SU-PERPHOSPHATE OF LIME. - The best superphosphate yet offered to the farmer, possessing all the activity of Peruvian Guano, but being far more durable in its effects. It contains a large amount of animal matter in a highly concentrated form, which, combined with its soluble bone phosphate of lime, cannot fail to render it very valuable as a fertilizer.—

Notwithstanding we believe it to be the best super-phosphate in the market, yet, by a pro-cess peculiar in its manufacture, whereby the expenses are lessened, we are enabled to sell it very low, with a liberal discount to dealers.
